

A famous art critic wrote recently "It is the ability to give life to a subject through an inner lambency that marks the true artist from the journeyman"

Give yourself five minutes to study one or two of Leigh Heppell's stunningly beautiful and exotically erotic creations in bronze and you will soon realise that Leigh is such a man! No common journeyman this, but a true artist in every way.

Leigh is only forty years old, but a full and fulfilling life undoubtedly shows through into his current work.

Completely untutored and self taught, this extrovert character with a history of achieving the impossible and sending ripples of delight to his many private and business clients, has over the last few years "made waves" in the world of conventional art.

Hidden away in a tiny Cornish village, Leigh works avidly to create an unusual collection of three dimensional figures to match his wild imagination. Working from a huge converted barn, and using his own special method of the modern technique of bonded bronze, he is able to individually produce beautiful sculptures that are genuinely hand made and quite unique.

"Touch them, feel them, stroke them and breath their beauty" says Leigh who is quick to admit his own love of sensuality and the female form.

ALL Sculptures are Limited Edition, are numbered and are supplied with a signed Certificate of Authenticity
